DJ dedicates “Little Girl” to JonBenet and her Dad

PodShow.com DJ, Jack “Get Jacked” Elias dedicates “Little Girl” in memory of JonBenet Ramsey and her father.

Internet/August 18, 2006

PodShow.com DJ, Jack “Get Jacked” Elias doesn’t think that the Ramsey’s killed their beautiful daughter, and does not think that the man they arrested in Thailand is the killer, either. However, the 25 year resident of Colorado who spent many of his college days three blocks away from the Ramsey neighborhood was moved to dedicate his show to discuss the events of the day.

Elias’ commentary surrounding the arrest of John Mark Karr, the man who has claimed to have killed JonBenet, is followed by the playing of E. Walter Smith’s beautiful song (duet), “Little Girl.” The duet features an amazing performance by teen diva and Star Search finalist, Tatiana McConnico, and speaks to magical relationship between a father and his “little girl.”

“Someone sent me an email late last night telling me that my song was played on a radio show about JonBenet. I clicked on the link and when I heard the song, well, what can I say.... I was touched. I know that this case has been going on for 10 years and the Ramsey family’s lives have been turned upside down. I have even seen reports of people flying to Atlanta from Japan just to visit JonBenet’s grave site. Needless to say, I’m flattered and honored that Jack played my song as a dedication to JonBenet and her father. Moreover, I pray that the song brings back happy memories for Mr. Ramsey during yet another traumatic phase of this case.” Smith says.

Elias’ commentary starts at the 14:06 point in the show and the song plays immediately thereafter. The post show commentary about the song starts at the 25:52 mark.
