New York City, June 2006

This Father’s Day will be an extra special day in New York City. It’s top Urban Adult Contemporary radio station, WBLS (<http://www.WBLS.com>) will debut, “Little Girl,” a beautiful duet written and recorded by international recording artist, E. Walter Smith, that features Star Search Finalist and Hal Jackson Talented Teen winner, Tatiana McConnico.

“It’s amazing how some things just seem to work out. I happened to be speaking to some friends a few weeks ago about “this new song I had” and threw out the question, ‘Do you guys know anybody in radio?’ Well, they responded by saying that they knew some folks in the Hal Jackson camp and that they heard he was pretty big in entertainment. I said, if you mean WBLS, Inner City Broadcasting, Talented Teen International, Hal Jackson he IS entertainment! Long story short, after a FedEx, some emails and phone conversations, “Little Girl” will debut on WBLS on Father’s Day. I’ve known for a few days, but waited until last night to tell Tati during our performance at Judge Mablean’s (Divorce Court) Honoring Unsung Fathers Awards VIP reception. <http://hufawards.com/Huf%20Temp%20site/2006%20H.U.F.%20Awards.html> As you might imagine, that was a special moment.”

If you won’t be in New York City or you can’t wait until Sunday to hear the song, you can download it for FREE at <http://www.TheLittleGirlSong.com>

Happy Fathers Day!
